

Nicholas Kontaxis

Twenty-five-year-old contemporary artist Nicholas Kontaxis thrives as a self-taught abstract artist – expressing his unique passion for life through his vibrant paintings, a riot of primary colors despite living with a brain tumor and 50,000 seizures to date. Kontaxis expresses himself through his bold, colorful and inspirational large-scale canvases that have touched countless individuals and collectors from around the world. His paintings have become his voice despite limited expressive verbal skills. Kontaxis, a true brut artist, has landed solo exhibitions in Los Angeles, Palm Desert, Sun Valley, Chicago, Atlanta, Brooklyn and London. With numerous commissioned works including, the Los Angeles Chargers, Kaiser Permanente Hospitals and Adidas at Coachella in 2019.
